

25 realities of homelessness & how YOU can change them...

Each morning, a homeless mother and her children wake up with no idea how they will survive the day, let alone where they'll sleep the next night. This is the reality of homelessness. Through your support of Beatitude House, YOU can change it.

1.)

Homeless parents often cut corners to try and make ends meet, sending their children to school without socks or underwear.

A gift of $250 can purchase all the new clothes and supplies a Beatitude House child needs at back-to-school time.

2.)

Mothers may leave their children with relatives or friends to avoid them living on the street or being removed from their custody.

Reunite a mother with her children. For $50, you can sponsor Beatitude House support services to help bring families together.

3.)

A degree is one of the last dreams for a woman with no place to sleep, yet her opportunities are curbed by a lack of education.

With a $500 donation, you can support the education of a homeless woman as she pursues a post-secondary degree.

4.)

Utility debt is often a contributing factor to homelessness and remains a difficult expense for a family in poverty to sustain.

Keep the water on at Beatitude House with $25 so a mother can shower before work and her children are bathed for school.

5.)

Homeless children are sick 4X as often as other children and the cost of medication is often weighed against the cost of eating.

You can help treat and prevent illness for $100, covering the cost of basic children's medicines, vitamins and first aid supplies.
